

THE MANDALA SUITES

High individuality in the centre of Berlin

The MANDALA SUITES is situated at the best address – you walk straight in from Friedrichstraße and the Gendarme Market is around the corner of the historical and cultural centre of Berlin.

You see the high quality of the individual finishes as soon as you enter the MANDALA. There is an individual design with a glass front on beams. Guests then cross an impressive inner courtyard, flooded with light, and finally enter the small yet stylish lobby. The building was designed by Professor Josef P. Kleihues who provides the ideal framework for the spacious suites. It is hidden behind a sleek facade on Friedrichstraße, a feature which also serves to underline the aura of understatement and a private world. The true splendour of the building only becomes apparent to the visitor on entering the grand inner courtyard. This area, with its glass roof and straight-line design, shines as the centre of the entire building complex.

The MANDALA Suites displays elegance and understatement suited to the special requirements of long-term guests. One does not feel like a customer of a hotel chain, but rather a welcome guest in a privately run house. A temporary home away from home awaits the guests in a top class environment, with carefully designed suites cared for by individual service. It is an ideal place to withdraw to for business consultants who are only in Berlin for a short period of time, for demanding artists and for travellers in need of relaxation.

The suites

A simple glance at the 40m<sup>2</sup> to 100m<sup>2</sup> generously designed suites with separate living and sleeping areas is enough to give you a feeling of relaxation. The charming fittings and high quality facilities, together with walk-in wardrobes and fully equipped open-plan kitchens create a temporary home from home.

Warm colours and wood pamper the eye and the soul. Modern technology fits seamlessly into this classic, timeless design, or even wirelessly - wireless LAN, high speed modem access and ISDN telephones with direct-dial allow easy communication.

The bath and WC are separate in 90% of the suites and almost all suites have a balcony or terrace for guests to soak up the sunshine or enjoy a good read from the library of English and German books, which is naturally as up-to-date as the choice of your daily newspaper.

The high quality materials and the meticulously planned facilities of each suite down to the last detail will delight discriminating long-term guests and business guests who are only staying a short while.

The lounge

The lounge adjoining the Health & Spa on the eighth floor of the MANDALA allows aesthetes to indulge in the exquisite design with refined detail, while travellers can enjoy a long breakfast and business guests can use the wireless network.

After the first class breakfast buffet, the breakfast lounge is converted into an inviting business lounge. Work in the luxurious atmosphere or relax with a newspaper while enjoying snacks, fresh fruit and drinks. The breathtaking view of the Potsdamer Platz skyline from the lounge provides a feeling of being on holiday at home, or feeling at home when on holiday.

The lounge is normally reserved for the exclusive use of guests of the MANDALA Suites, but can also be used for meetings, private parties or receptions in smaller numbers, allowing business partners or friends to enjoy special times in the heart of the city. The facilities and the 'environment' is naturally individually designed and tailored to specific requirements.

Those who are not guests at the MANDALA may make use of the lounge, which provides an excellent private dining room for up to 20 people who wish to sign contracts, hold conferences or photo shoots. The lounge is above the hotel and is incomparably quiet and shielded from the outside world.
